COTEST CASES IN LAWRENCE CO.

Suit Withdrawn in Sheriff's Race. No Trials Yet in Other Cases.

Mr. H. B. Muncy, republican contestant for the office of Sheriff of Lawrence county, has withdrawn the suit which he filed recently contesting the election of Jim Waller Young.

Rev. H. B. Hewlett and D. M. Curran, Democratic candidates for Circuit Clerk and Tax Commissioner, went to Catlettsburg before Judge Cisco to have a hearing of their case, but their opponents, W. S. Boggs and H. W. Williams, were not ready and the case was carried over. No date for trial has been set.

Steamboat Traffic Re- sumed on Big Sandy River

For the first time since 1904 a passenger and freight steamboat is plying the Big Sandy river. The J. F. Davis, owned by Captain John Davis, of Fulton, left the Ashland wharf Saturday for Pikeville on its maiden voyage as a regular scheduled packet on the Big Sandy.

Captain Davis is going to make an attempt to revive the freight trade on the Big Sandy with his boat. It is 140 feet long and twenty-six feet wide, suitable for the traffic on this river. Captain Davis is a river man of long experience and will operate his packet on the Big Sandy as long as the business justifies the venture.

A regular schedule has not yet been worked out but it is believed that the boat will be able to make two round trips a week between Ashland and Pikeville. It takes about four days to make one complete trip—Ashland independent.

Capt. F. E. Freese, of Louisa, is one of the pilots on this boat.

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF LAWRENCE CO.

I take this method of thanking you for your kindness shown me during this campaign, not only for your loyal support of voting for me but your kind treatment in every respect. I have no ill feeling for those who opposed me but extend to them kind regards. I did not ask for your good or any selfish motive but to be your servant if selected. My having no opposition in the final election was no fault of mine and I should not be charged with it. Should my opponent have gotten on the ballot and received even a single vote more than I, I certainly would not have questioned it.

The unpleasant affair now existing between me and my opponent, Mr. Hewlett, to wit: A law suit was not caused nor started by me. However, I believe in the law of defense whereof a man has a right to protect himself and the rights of his family even though he be attacked by a "minister of the gospel."

Yours truly,
W. S. BOGGS.

HUNTER FINED $75 FOR KILLING KENTUCKY DEER

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 5.—The first arrest in many years for killing a deer in Kentucky was made in Powell county recently when Ambrose Ballard was fined $75. The deer is supposed to have wandered there after being released from the Bell county preserve. It had to go more than fifty miles across the divide between the headwaters of the Cumberland and the Kentucky Rivers to get there. One was reported in Garrard on the edge of the Bluegrass.

November was the busiest month at the year for wardens, who made 107 arrests and obtained 105 convictions, the record for the Game and Fish Department.—Courier-Journal.

PRINCE-KLEIN

The many friends of Miss Sarah Prince and Mr. George W. Klein will be surprised to hear of their marriage. The ceremony was performed in Columbus.

The bride who has held a responsible position with The Excelsior Shoe Co. of this city for the past few years, was formerly a resident of Louisa, Ky., and is a young woman with police and dignity. She is possessed with a charming personality and while not extensively known in Louisa, a royal welcome awaits her there.

Mr. Klein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Klein of Ironton, O., and is in charge of The Klein Ice & Cold Storage plant. He is a splendid young man, strictly sober, industrious, ambitious, and eminently trustworthy. He is an expert mechanic and under his guidance the Klein plant has grown to splendid proportions.

Mr. and Mrs. Klein will enjoy a two weeks wedding trip and upon their return to Ironton they will receive hearty and sincere congratulations.

MRS. J. C. LAYNE PASSES AWAY

Louisa relatives and friends were grieved when they learned of the death of Mrs. James C. Layne, which occurred at Fort Thomas, Ky., Thursday of last week. It was known here that she had been in an enfeebled condition for quite a while, due to advanced age and to an accident which befell her about four years ago, resulting in a broken hip.

A funeral service was held at the home on Friday evening and on Saturday the body was brought to Louisa for burial, arriving on Norfolk & Western train at 2:15 p. m. Undertaker Snyder and a number of friends of the deceased met the train and all were conveyed directly to Pine Hill cemetery, where the interment was made. Rev. John Cheap, of the M. E. Church, conducted an appropriate service and members of the choir sang favorite hymns.

The active pall bearers were Richard Moore, L. T. McClure, M. S. Bursar, T. S. Thompson, O. R. Vinson and M. F. Conley, honorary pall bearers, Col. Jay H. Northrup, F. T. Wallace, Capt. F. E. Freese, J. W. Yates, G. W. Castle and R. C. McClure.

Accompanying the remains to Louisa were the husband, the two sons and two daughters of Mrs. Layne, and some of the grandchildren, as follows:

Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Layne and son, Fort of Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Layne, Jr., of Fort Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Peck and four children of Huntington.

Mrs. Effie Layne Brown and daughter, Adelaide, of Fort Thomas.

Mrs. Adams of Logan, a sister of Mr. Peck, also was present.

All were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shannon while here.

Mrs. J. C. Layne had just passed her 77th birthday. She was a daughter of Mr. "Dogg" Shannon, who spent a long and honorable life in this community.

James W. Shannon was Mrs. Layne's brother, and her sisters were Mrs. W. M. Stone, and Mrs. J. C. Gratney, all of whom have passed away.

Mrs. Layne was a consistent member of the M. E. Church from her youth. She was a woman of more than ordinary mental capacity, of kindly disposition refined in manner and tastes. About thirty years ago the family moved to Cincinnati in order to give the children better educational advantages. Several years later Mr. and Mrs. Layne removed to Huntington, where they resided until four years ago. Mr. Layne is in his 87th year and is remarkably active for this extreme age. He walks erect and briskly, using no cane.

Mrs. Layne never lost her affection for the old home town of Louisa and the friends she left here. It was her expressed desire to have her body laid to rest on Pine Hill, where so many relatives and friends sleep, overlooking the little city where she spent her youth and a good portion of her mature years.

WAYNE ELECTION DENIED BY COURT

Non-Partisan Committee Holds Petitions Sub- mitted Are Insuffi- cient.

Wayne, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Kenova's hopes of attaining her ambition to be the county seat of Wayne county were materially lessened today when the court ruled that the petitions submitted requesting a new courthouse election were insufficient. A committee, supposed to have been composed of non-partisans, held that the petitions contained several duplications and other irregularities to such a great extent that the request was rendered void. Evidence to this effect was produced before the court in today's hearing.

Removalists were not yet ready to give up their hopes of taking the courthouse to Kenova, and from reliable sources it was intimated that the next move would be in the higher court, where a petition for a mandamus compelling the calling of a new election may be presented.—Herald-Dispatch.

THE "REWARD" OF THE FAITHFUL PUBLIC SERVANT

In retiring from the office of Mayor of Ashland, Judge Dymard says of his official experience:

"We have had the lath-whacker on our trail spewing hate everywhere, barking at everything we did. We have had in these troublesome times to deal with that accursed type of citizen always to be found, who tells you today what you should have done yesterday, but never today what you should do tomorrow. His mission is to bark and growl. He always throws stones and plants thorns. He never breathes a word of hope and a kind word is not known in his vocabulary. I am glad at the close of our term that we have been big enough and brave enough to move on in spite of such opposition and do for the old city that we all should love, a few useful things."

J. N. PETERS DIES NEAR THIS PLACE

Mr. John N. Peters died at his home four miles east of Louisa, near Salt-peter, W. Va., on Monday of this week at the age of 83 years. The interment took place in the Bee burial grounds not far away. Rev. H. B. Hewlett conducted the funeral services in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Mr. Peters had been in ill health for several years. One foot was amputated three or four years ago as a result of gangrene. For more than a year he had been in a very feeble condition.

He is survived by the wife, who is in very poor health; several sons and daughters. Three live in California.

Mrs. T. C. Linger of Findlay, Ohio, who has been coming frequently to see her parents, was present at the funeral.

Mr. Peters was an honest, industrious and substantial citizen. For many years he operated a saw mill. He was also engaged in farming.

NEW CITY OFFICERS.

It is reported that the following have been agreed upon as officials of Louisa to be put into office under the new city council after January 1:

Marshal—Richard Cyrus.

Clerk—John G. Burris.

Attorney—A. J. Garred.

Treasurer—J. B. Kinetter.

IN MEMORY

On December 1 the death angel winged its flight to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burchett and claimed for its victim their darling daughter, Milton. She was about 45 years of age.

She leaves a father, mother and three brothers and a host of friends to mourn her loss. She was well loved by everybody. She was always so kind to everyone. Weep not dear ones for Milton for she has crossed over the dark river of death and is now resting in the arms of our dear Savior. Weep not as those who have no hope, but prepare to meet her in that better world where there will be no more partings, no more heartaches or dying, but all will be peace and joy for evermore. All was done for her that loving hands could do but God in His wisdom doeth all things well. "A dear friend from us is gone, a voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in the home that never can be filled." She was laid to rest in the family burying ground by the side of her brother, overlooking the home.

—One of her best friends.

TROOPS SENT TO GUARD REID TRIAL

Machine Guns Are Ordered to Barboursville for Mur- der Case, Sequel to Feud.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 5.—Thirty National Guardsmen, armed with rifles and machine guns, and under command of Maj. James K. Dillon, were ordered by Gov. Edwin P. Morrow today to go to Barboursville to protect the Knox Circuit Court during the trial of Bart S. Reid, charged with killing Will Lee on the streets of that city last June.

Though neither was an active participant in the Bailey-White feud Reid's friends are members of the White family and Lee had been identified with the Bailey faction. The shooting was said to have been an outgrowth of the feud.

This is the third time troops have been sent to Barboursville and the fifth time their presence has been required to guard Circuit Courts in the State.

Soldiers were stationed at Barboursville at the hearing last June of John Bailey, charged with the killing of Beverly White, and at his trial at Mount Vernon in August. They also were at Barboursville following the slaying of Lee. Twelve troops have been sent to Sandy Hook to protect the court, once in July and once in October.

Half of Major Dillon's force will go from Troop B, of Lebanon, and will take two machine guns. The remainder will go from Williamsburg, the home of Company D, 149th Infantry Regiment.

NEGRO ATTORNEY SELECTED.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Senator Davis E. Ellis and Representative Wells Goodknight have agreed, it was learned today, to recommend Arthur Free, negro, of Welch, W. Va., an attorney, for appointment as Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia. This patronage was offered to West Virginia a month ago. The post usually is held by an Indian or negro.

It also was learned that Ned Smith, of Fairmont, had sent in his resignation as United States Marshal for the Northern District, although his term does not expire until next March 1. He will be succeeded by Louis Backwald, of Wheeling, who was agreed upon six months ago.

The Marshals for the Southern District, for which a number have applied, now is between Siegel Workman of Boone-co.; McGinnis Hatfield, of McDowell-co.; and Greenway Hatfield of Williamson, it was revealed. The Hatfields are cousins.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BROWN CONDEMNED TO DIE IN CHAIR

Christmas day is the date set for Dave Brown, Pike county farmer, to die in the electric chair for a double murder.

He was to have paid the penalty Friday, November 25, but Gov. Edwin P. Morrow granted him a thirty days reprieve to permit the filing of an appeal.

Brown was convicted at Pikeville of killing James Brumfield and his child. Brown ran away with Brumfield's wife and when she started to return to her husband, Brown shot him to death with the child in his arms.

CITY COUNCIL.

The city council met Tuesday night in regular session. Routine business such as allowing claims occupied the greater part of the time.

A final settlement for collection of the 1920 taxes was made by K. M. Short, and his delinquent list was accepted. He was complimented on the clean manner in which he had handled the collections. He paid up in full in record time.

The meeting adjourned until December 20th.

Two new picture machines are being installed with electric motors to operate them. Also, they have purchased the newest and best screen on the market for the pictures to be thrown upon. The screen cost $300.

WAYNE CITIZEN'S DEAD BODY FOUND

Wesley Thompson, 73, of Radnor, W. Va., was found dead last Thursday morning about one-half mile from the home of Mont Thompson by neighbors after having been missing since noon Monday.

At noon Monday, November 23, he told relatives that he was going to post some letters. He later changed his mind and started hunting. About three o'clock in the afternoon it began to rain and his relatives supposed that he had stopped at a neighbor's house for shelter. When he did not return they were not uneasy for it had been his habit to stay overnight now, and then with friends without telling his family. When he did not return next day his relatives were alarmed and went from house to house inquiring for him. On Thursday morning he was found by John Noe and James Pratt.

Mr. Thompson was born in Floyd county, Ky., and lived there most of his life. In 1918, he moved with his family to Tacoma, Wash., and last spring he moved to Wayne county. He was a man of quiet and earnest disposition and was liked by all his neighbors. He was married twice and the following children of the first union survive: Dock Thompson, Wonder, Ky., John Thompson, Washington, of the last union these children survive: Jas. of Ivel, Ky., Dove of Radnor, Willie and Fairy of Moron, Washington.

The funeral was held at the home of Mont Thompson Friday afternoon, Rev. Cyrus Marcum conducting the services.

Morris Harvey College Receives $200,000 Gift

Mrs. Rosa M. Harvey, widow of the late Morris Harvey, for whom Morris Harvey college was named has willed the college the bulk of her estate, it was made known yesterday by President R. T. Webb.

The bequest is valued at $200,000. It consists largely of coal lands, stocks and bonds, and other real estate. Dr. Webb has been informed by Dillon & Nuckols, attorneys of Fayetteville, where Mrs. Harvey resided until her death last week. The estate will be converted at once under the terms of the will.

The will was read Saturday morning in the presence of relatives of the late Mrs. Harvey, and it was not understood the will would be contested.

The late Morris Harvey furnished the funds a number of years ago which enabled the founding of Morris Harvey College, an educational institution of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South at Barboursville, W. Va. In her will Mrs. Harvey was said to have carried out the wishes of her husband, who had always cherished a lively interest in the financial welfare of the college.

The sum of $200,000, when placed at the disposal of the college, will bring about needed new buildings and enable the institution to continue a broad scale of activities. No detailed plans for improvements will be made until the funds from the estate become available.

LOSS OF $13,500 CAUSED BY FIRE

Owners Had Only $4,200 In- surance on Four Houses Burned.

Prestonsburg, Ky., Dec. 2.—Four buildings—a hotel, a restaurant and two dwelling houses—were destroyed by fire here early today causing a loss of approximately $13,500.

The fire started in the home of Guy Horn in the Middle creek section of the city, and across Big Sandy river from the main part of Prestonsburg. Mr. Horn arose about 2 a. m. to put some coal on the fire, but found that the room was full of smoke. Arousing his sleeping wife they barely had time to dress and get out of the building with their lives.

The nearby hotel and restaurant owned by James Patton next caught fire and both were wholly burned, including all the furniture in both the home and the hotel. The hotel was operated by Nelson Hall.

The restaurant that was consumed was that of R. E. Howard and was located in the same neighborhood.

Mr. Horn's loss was estimated at $3,000, covered by $1,600 in insurance. Patton's loss was placed at $4,000 on the hotel and $1,500 on his home. He had only $1,000 insurance on the two Nelson Hall, who owned the furniture in the hotel, suffered a loss of $4,000, and he had no insurance at all. Howard's loss was estimated at $1,000, fully covered by insurance.

The fire raged for more than an hour and attracted a large number of persons from across the river. Several hundreds of persons tried to fight the fires, but to no avail. Bucket brigades were attempted, but no effective work could be done as the fire had gained such a headway at the time it was discovered.

Today the homeless families are being cared for by friends, until they may build other suitable accommodations. Mr. Horn blamed a defective grate with starting the fire.

HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY OF DR. J. F. MEDLEY OBSERVED

Prior to Dr. Powell's sermon Mr. W. B. Evans read a letter from Mrs. Mary Magruder Connolly of Atlanta, Ga., in which she presented a beautiful altar vase, filled with a huge bouquet of lowliest chrysanthemums, honoring the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of her father, the late distinguished Dr. J. F. Medley. This also contained an interesting sketch of the life of Dr. Medley. Preceding his sermon Dr. Powell read a letter to himself from Rev. A. P. Keyser in which the latter paid a glowing tribute to Dr. Medley and his activities. Dr. Powell then delivered a eulogy on Dr. Medley, which touched the hearts of those present, most of whom knew and loved this great and good man in life. Dr. Powell then paid a tribute to the devoted daughter, who had taken such a splendid method of commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of her father and of keeping his memory green. December 6 marks the one hundredth anniversary of the late Dr. Medley, who was the chief founder and for many years the pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, here. The church greatly appreciates the kind thoughtfulness of Mrs. Connolly. All hope to have Dr. Powell here again. His coming here was highly appreciated.—Ashland Independent.

ULYSSES

The loving little son Everett of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Hannah, died a few weeks ago at this place. His death was caused by diphtheria. He was six years of age and was a very bright little boy. The family has our greatest sympathy.—Death visited the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Young and took from them their loving son, John Milton. He had quick consumption which was caused by being shot some time ago at Powellton, W. Va. He was about 19 years of age and a very nice young man. He has had no use of himself since he was shot about two years ago. The family has the sympathy of the entire community and we trust that John Milton is at rest for he has suffered so long. Mrs. Fred Pack is very ill with quick consumption and is not expected

Foreign Advertising Representatives
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Friday, December 9, 1921.

The United States produces a surplus of agricultural products, manufactured goods, and many kinds of raw materials. We must find a foreign market or sell below cost of production in a glutted home market. When the glutted market has reached the utmost limit the surplus rots or is junked. Producers go out of business. Dealers fail. Business is stagnant. Nobody can get a profit. We have outgrown George Washington's time. We can not keep aloof from the rest of the world.

Europe must have a lot of credit and some money to buy our surplus. She has neither at present because the United States withdrew her great steady hand at the most critical period in the world's history. Normally the English money unit, the pound sterling, is worth $4.86 of United States money. The German mark 23 cents. When a few United States Senators forced the United States to withdraw from world affairs the pound sterling dropped to $3.18 and it has touched only once since. The German mark circulates at about half of one cent in money as against 23 cents normally. The exchange rate between us and all other countries of Europe dropped to a point where they can not buy our products. If they should do so it would be the same as adding the difference to our prices, making such transactions prohibitive for those people already reeling under burdens that look almost insurmountable. Their governments have no credit because they may be overthrown at any time. Without an association of nations including the all powerful United States of America there can be no assurance of the stability of very many of Europe's nations. If the United States had remained loyal to her allies after the war, business would have continued good because credits and normal rates of exchange would have been maintained.

Our manufacturers had desirable orders piled high, extending over a period of five years, when the United States took the fatal step through a handful of shortsighted and small political Senators. These were cancelled by cable and by mail and by personal representatives immediately.

The words of President Wilson, uttered just after the rejection of the League of Nations, are now realized as having been true prophecy. He said: "They have disgraced us in the eyes of the world. The people of America have repudiated a fruitful leadership for a barren independence."

"There will, of course, be a depression in business, for the isolation which America covets will mean a loss of prestige which always in the end means a loss of business."

"The people will soon witness the tragedy of disappointment, and then they will turn upon those who made that disappointment possible."

"I am not thinking of the partisan side of this thing. It is the country and its future that I am thinking about. We had a chance to gain the leadership of the world. We have lost it, and soon we will be witnessing the tragedy of it all."

Let us hope the present international gathering at Washington will result in a strong association of nations in which the United States shall be the central figure and guiding power. But it will be difficult now to convince the other nations of our sincerity. When a proposition along this line was made a few days ago one of the foreign representatives immediately said, "What would the U. S. Senate do the next time?"

The Good Roads organization of Kentucky has worked out a plan for building hard roads in every county in the State that looks to be entirely feasible. It can be done without any increase in taxes. The plan is to issue fifty millions in State bonds and build all main roads within five or six years. The bonds will mature in 20 years and the yearly income for roads on the present basis will pay the interest and principal of these bonds. In this way the people will get hard roads right away and pay for them with the money they are going to dribble out anyway as at present with very little results.

After a quarrel of 700 years duration, the Irish question has been settled, it is believed. The British government has agreed to making Ireland the "Ireland Free State" with the same rights and privileges and relations to Canada and Australia have. If the agreement reached by the representatives is ratified by the proper Irish and British organizations this will mark a solution of a most troublesome situation. The Irish people were entitled to relief of some kind.

COURT DECIDES
THREE OIL CASES

The following cases involving oil rights in Lawrence county were decided recently by Judge Cochran, of the United States court. Owing to the principles involved and the general interest here in oil matters we publish the opinions herewith:

The case of Morton E. Sparks against the Union Gas & Oil Co., is as follows:

This cause is before me upon final hearing. The relief which plaintiffs seek is the cancellation of a lease of an oil and gas right under which defendant has entered and at the time of the hearing had drilled three wells producing oil in paying quantities and was in the act of drilling a fourth well and the ouster of plaintiffs from the leased premises, thus allowing plaintiffs to reap the benefit of defendant's endeavor. The suit was brought September 15, 1920. Therefore, defendant had drilled one of the three wells referred to. It placed a load of casings on the premises January 26, 1920 and removed a drilling machine thereon in March following and proceeded at once to drill the well. The other two wells seem to have been drilled after the bringing of the suit. The grounds upon which the relief referred to is sought are pretty much the same as in the Miller case. The lease here was made on the same date on which the lease involved there was made, to-wit: January 26, 1916, and is of exactly similar character. The rental from the year beginning January 26, 1917, was tendered January 25, 1918, and accepted, and that for the year beginning January 16, 1918, was tendered January 15, 1919, and accepted. On October 4, 1919, plaintiffs gave defendant notice calling on it to commence development in good faith and prosecute same in reasonable diligence before January 26, 1920. The plaintiffs are in no position to complain of want of reasonable diligence in development after the drilling of the first well, even if there was such want, because they were claiming that defendant had no right to develop at all and forbidding him to develop further and so notifying it. The plaintiff Atkins gave such a notice March 18, 1920, whilst defendant was in the act of drilling the first well, July 13, 1920, but plaintiffs gave notice to this effect and on July 30, 1920, they caused a notice to same import to be posted on the premises. The plaintiffs had no right to hasten development by giving notice to that effect as I have held in other cases. When defendant entered its lease had not terminated. It had until January 26, 1921, in which to run. The parties had interpreted it as not requiring payment of rental in advance, but permitting payment thereof to be made any time during the year to which it related. The rental for the year ending January 6, 1920, had been tendered in due time and defendant had until any time before January 26, 1921, to tender the rental for the year beginning January 26, 1920. It does not appear that defendant did not commence to drill the first well as soon as it reasonably could have so done after the notice of October 4, 1919. The entry to drill the first well and the drilling thereof seems to have been agreeable to the plaintiff Sparks, the original lessor. The first note of dissent came from the plaintiff Atkins. In the notice of July 13, 1920 they say that they have been "advised by counsel after thorough consideration that the action of Mr. Sparks in allowing you to move upon the property in March, 1920 and begin the drilling of a well without protest from him, was at most, merely a license to drill one well and our counsel also advise that even if you are within your rights in drilling this well (which is doubtful, so far as Mr. Sparks is concerned, or possibly so far as Mr. Atkins is concerned, nevertheless you would have no right to drill any other wells upon the property after receiving the notice of March 18, 1920 from Atkins."

It appears from this notice that in fact plaintiffs are not opposed to defendant continuing to develop the premises and that all they desire is more royalty.

The bill is dismissed at plaintiffs' costs.

A. M. J. COCHRAN, Judge.

The case of Oscar Skaggs, etc. vs. Union Gas & Oil Company:

The plaintiffs seek the cancellation of a lease of an oil and gas right under which defendant has entered and at the time of the hearing had drilled a well producing oil in paying quantities and from which plaintiffs had received as much as $1900 in royalties and to oust defendant from the premises so that they can get the entire product from this well and can lease the balance as they desire. As this well was drilled with plaintiffs' consent and they have been receiving the royalties arising therefrom, they are in no position to complain that it was not drilled sooner than it was. This circumstance stands out from this case all the questions in the Miller and Sparks case as to whether the lease had come to an end before entry and the commencement of development. The only possible ground upon which plaintiffs can base a right to the relief they seek is the failure to further develop the premises. But it is apparent that the delay was with plaintiffs' acquiescence. They never notified defendant to further develop, but called on it to get out. The decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals in the case of Dinanore vs. Combs, 171 Ky. 740 is directly in point here. It appears from an amended and supplemental answer tendered since the hearing, which may be filed that defendant has drilled another producing well on the leased premises. The plaintiffs' bill is dismissed at their costs.

OBITUARY

The death angel visited the home of Lafa Webb on Tuesday night, Nov. 29, 1921 and claimed for its victim his loving wife, Mrs. Bertha Thompson Webb, aged 23 years, 10 months and 12 days. Just why this loving wife and devoted mother was taken we can not tell. Perhaps to draw some loved one to God.

Oh, how sad it is to see the heart broken husband and the dear little ones left alone, but we realize that their loss is heaven's gain.

Never was there a more devoted wife and mother. She bore her suffering so patiently. It can not seem real that those bright eyes and sweet lips are closed in death. But bereaved ones prepare to meet dear Bertha where there will be no more suffering no good-bys and tears. We loved her, yes we loved her, but angels loved her more and so they called dear Bertha to yonder shining shore. The golden gates were opened, a gentle voice said come, and with farewells unspoken she entered that sweet home. M. A.

Card Of Thanks.

We desire through the columns of this paper to express our heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our dear daughter and sister, Mrs. Bertha Thompson Webb. We are also thankful to Bros. Hulet and Hutchison for their kind words of consolation and for the beautiful floral offering. —Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Thompson and family, Jettie, Ky.

THAT MORNING LAMENESS

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on Louisa testimony.
M. Ferguson, plumber and painter, Louisa, says: "Some years ago my kidneys got in bad shape and I suffered much pain when passing the kidney secretions. There would be some sediment in the secretions, too. My back had a dull kind of pain in it and it was about all I could do of a morning to dress myself. I was so lame across my back. I have done much hard work in my time and followed the painting trade. I blame the smell of turpentine for the starting of my trouble. Finally, I got to reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, so I went to the Louisa Drug Store Co. and got three boxes. I used them until my troubles left me. Doan's Kidney Pills toned up my system generally and I couldn't recommend a better remedy for kidney trouble than Doan's Kidney Pills." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Presumption.
By Ella Wheeler Wilcox.
Whenever I am prone to doubt or wonder
I check myself, and say, "That's the way it is."
Who made the solar system cannot blunder.
And for the best all things are being done."
Who sets the stars on their eternal courses
Has fashioned this strange earth on some sure plan.
Bow low, bow low to those majestic forces.
Nor dare to doubt their wisdom-puny man.
You cannot put one little star in motion.
You cannot shape one little forest leaf.
Nor fling a mountain up, nor sink an ocean.
Presumptuous pigmy, large with unbelief.
You cannot bring one dawn of legal splendor.
Nor bid the day to shadowy twilight fall.
Or send the pale moon forth with radiance tender.
And dare you doubt the one who has done all?

"So much is wrong, there is such pain—such sinning."
Ye, look again—behold how much is right!
And He who formed the world from its beginning
Knows how to guard it upright to the light.
Your task, O man, is not to carp and cavil
At God's achievements, but with purpose strong
To cling to good, and turn away from evil.
That is the way to help the world along.

The fundamental basis for every condition in life lies in the heart of man. To change the condition you must change the man. For this reason there can be no physical disarmament without spiritual disarmament. The present disarmament conference means nothing to the world's peace unless the spirit that animates it is the spirit of truth. The world cannot simply make a gesture of disarmament. It means very little to junk the obsolescent battle ship without junking the petty hatreds, the narrow and isolated nationalisms, the economic greed and personal jealousies that light the touch of war.

You cannot change conditions until you change men. Before disarmament means anything but a gesture you will have to scrap their ancient hatreds and their false illusions. Hatred is a poison. It generates toxic poison in an organism, but having been bred hatred must have an outlet. Its outlet is war. Hand in hand with hatred goes fear and prejudice.
Before there is world peace there must come into the hearts of men love to destroy hatred, trust to drive out fear, understanding to scale the wall of prejudice that blinds us to justice. That love and trust and understanding may come into the hearts of men there must come a greater consciousness of God, not the old god of the Moral Ideal, the God of Love, of Truth, of Justice. Before peace can come to the world this vision of the Moral Ideal must be necessary. That war is glorious. Ask the soldiers who came out of the trenches how glorious it was, or the widows or the fatherless children. For those who did not suffer, who only saw the soldiers marching by with flags flying and bands playing it may have seemed glorious, but the battle fields are a far different matter than the flag draped and flower bedecked streets of an American city. When we can get a true concept of what war really means and of all the terror that follows in its wake, when we know our foolish illusions about the glory of a war and the glory of a uniform, spiral disarmament will come to us without all the pomp and ceremony that characterize physical disarmament, and it will stay by us when it dawns for it will be in our hearts that the change has taken place.

When you hear a man say that at times he finds existence a dreadful bore, you can feel quite certain that man has too much leisure on his hands. A man who has his time employed is never bored.

Procrastination is a deadly sin. Did you ever think of all the good you might have done in the world if you hadn't put it off until tomorrow?

SHE BURNS MONEY ON CLOTHES

Here are two views of Mrs. Smith Wilkinson, who is acknowledged as the best dressed woman in the world, and who is coming to America shortly to show us what real gowns are. Mrs. Wilkinson started in life as a restaurant keeper in England. She and her husband expanded the business into a chain of restaurants, then into a chain of hotels and they made millions. Her whole life now is spent in buying things to wear, and wearing 'em at a cost of a million a year. Her wardrobe contains hundreds of costly gowns, priceless laces, gorgeous hats, diamond studded shoes and her strings of pearls and rubies are a huge fortune in themselves. Some of her gowns are so complicated in make and material that they take nine months to complete.

Poem by Uncle John

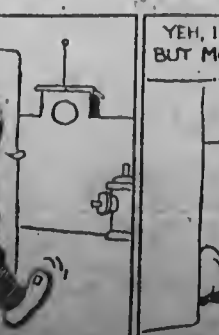

THE JOY OF TRAVELLIN'

Every bend in the road brings a vision of joy to the heart that's in tune with the ride; The reward measures up to the means we employ, as we treasure the things that abide. And the distance we go, as our vision expands, lends judgment with wisdom replete, if we pause not to wall at the uncertain sands, while lumber the way-farer's feet.
So onward and upward we travel each day, unconscious of shadder or tears. While the starshine of love adds its wealth to the way, and ripeness gives strength to the years. When wisdom encounters the bend in the road, no grim disappointments ensnare, 'Tis only the weakling that bends from his load, or sinks in the sands of despair.

KENTUCKY TURF'S GREAT PROGRESS

In the Last Three Years the Kentucky Jockey Club Has Distributed in Stakes and Purses $3,479,655.00.

THOROUGHBRED YEARLINGS INCREASE IN VALUE.

[From the Lexington (Ky.) Thoroughbred Horse.]

It will be of particular interest to the breeders of thoroughbreds in this State, and to those persons everywhere who own and race horses to review the situation in Kentucky and to show the progress that has been made in the last seventeen years. As the value of stallions and broodmares depends on the quality of their produce and the ability of that produce to win stakes and purses, a comparison of the present prosperous condition of the turf with other days when prices were low and breeders and turfmen everywhere had cause for complaint will be of value at this time.

Never in the history of the turf have thoroughbreds been so valuable as they are right now. The best barometer is the public market and the auction sales at Saratoga last August showed that, despite the general prostration of business with individuality brought the best average in many years. The highest price of the season at Saratoga was $21,000 for the brother to The Porter. Several others were sold for more than $10,000 each and a number of likely looking colts and fillies brought from $5,000 to $7,000 each. The market generally was steady and unspotted, which is to say it was stable.

The prices were based on the probable winning power of these colts and fillies, and if organizations like the Kentucky Jockey Club did not offer generous stakes and purses, it would be impossible to market their yearlings advantageously. Neither would it have been possible for S. C. Hildreth to have paid $125,000 for the brother to Man o' War, $150,000 for Indiscreet, or for Benjamin Black to have paid on a $75,000 valuation for the mighty Morloch, or for a number of others to have paid the large prices given for horses with equality to hold their own in contests on the turf.

Fifteen years ago it was no uncommon thing in Kentucky for turfmen to run their horses for $400 purses. This year the Kentucky Jockey Club distributed in stakes and purses an average of $12,000 a day to the turfmen; no purse at Churchill Downs or Latonia was under $1,000, and many of them reaching $1,500 and $1,500 each. In 1905 the Kentucky Derby was worth $4,850. Since the existence of the Kentucky Jockey Club, which was organized three years ago, the Kentucky Derby was worth in 1919 over $20,000; in 1920 over $20,000, and in 1921 the Kentucky Jockey Club added $50,000 to the royal stake. All the other stakes on the roster of the Kentucky Jockey Club at Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia have been proportionately increased.

In the three years of its existence the Kentucky Jockey Club has distributed to the turfman $3,479,655, the greater part of which sum was paid to citizens of Kentucky who own and breed race horses.

Since the Kentucky Legislature in 1903 created the State Racing Commission, we have had cleaner and better racing than ever before, and since the organization of the Kentucky Jockey Club we have had an era of prosperity for breeders and turfmen unequalled in the turf history of this State.

Here are the official figures for the past seventeen years, from 1905 to 1921, inclusive:

1905—	Total number of racing days...135	Total amount of money distributed.....$420,350.00	The highest purse given was $750 and the lowest $300, and the average was a little more than $400 each.
1906—	Total number of racing days...174	Total amount of money distributed.....$517,800.00	Purses averaged about $450 each.
1907—	Total number of racing days...111	Total amount of money distributed.....$362,350.00	Purses averaged about $450 each.
1908—	Total number of racing days...112	Total amount of money distributed.....$340,900.00	Purses averaged about $450 each, although this year purses at Lexington ran as low as $250.
1909—	Total number of racing days...112	Total amount of money distributed.....$310,500.00	Lexington purses ran as low as $300, and the average for the whole circuit was $450 each.
1910—	Total number of racing days...110	Total amount of money distributed.....$338,350.00	Purses averaged about $500 each.
1911—	Total number of racing days...109	Total amount of money distributed.....$347,200.00	Purses averaged about $500 each.
1912—	Total number of racing days...108	Total amount of money distributed.....$444,900.00	Purses averaged over $500 each.

1914—	Total number of racing days...104	Total amount of money distributed.....$430,200.00	Purses averaged over $500 each.
1915—	Total number of racing days...102	Total amount of money distributed.....$481,400.00	Purses averaged over $600 each.
1916—	Total number of racing days...107	Total amount of money distributed.....$580,400.00	Purses averaged about $550 each.
1917—	Total number of racing days...106	Total amount of money distributed.....$653,150.00	Purses averaged about $750 each.
1918—	Total number of racing days...101	Total amount of money distributed.....$632,000.00	Purses averaged about $850 each; Latonia, Dan Patch and Churchill Downs increasing many of the over-night purses $1,000 each.
1919—	Total number of racing days...99	Total amount of money distributed.....$997,100.00	The Kentucky Jockey Club was organized this year and took over the Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia race tracks. The average daily amount given in stakes and purses at all tracks was $10,176, and the seven races each day averaged $1,453 each.
1920—	Total number of racing days...107	Total amount of money distributed.....$1,200,800.00	The average daily amount in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,214, and the seven races each day averaged $1,602 each.
1921—	Total number of racing days...108	Total amount of money distributed.....$1,281,675.00	The average daily amount in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,867, and the seven races each day averaged $1,695.00 each.

How Uncle Sam is Advancing a Billion to Help the Farmer To Help Himself

Eugene Meyer, Jr., Managing Director of United States War Finance Corporation, writes special article explaining plan and how it is already showing fine results.

By EUGENE MEYER, JR.

Managing Director of the United States War Finance Corporation.

Written for the Big Sandy News.

In normal times it has been the practice of the farmer to sell his products within a short time after the harvest. He was then in position to put the returns into meeting his financial obligations and buying his supplies and equipment for the next operation. But when he has to carry his output, or a large part of it, on the farm or in the warehouse, as has been the case this last season, his capital is tied up and he is not only faced with the difficulty of meeting his obligations but he cannot go ahead properly with his regular farming business. He hasn't the money for seeds, labor, and equipment and he is brought to a standstill.

When the agricultural population is affected in this way the whole nation feels the pinch. THE FARMER IS THE GREATEST BUYER IN THE COUNTRY as well as the greatest producer. But his potential purchasing power cannot make itself felt in an effective manner so long as he is compelled to play the role of keeper of the national storage, so to speak. He may have done his part in producing food and other commodities. He may want to continue operations and be willing to make the necessary expenditure, but unless he can find a market for his products his hands are tied.

The way out of this situation is to untie the farmer's hands—to PRO-CEED HIM WITH THE MEANS OF spreading the marketing of his products over a longer period and at the same time of carrying on the regular farm operations. If, in this way, we can help the farmer to help himself, the good effect will extend gradually through our whole business structure. The War Finance Corporation is now making every effort to supply just this help. To assist in the orderly marketing of agricultural products, the Corporation is making advances on adequate security and on a sound business basis to properly qualified associations of producers, to financial institutions, and to exporters of agricultural products. Good results have already been obtained. For instance, the cotton belt used to make 80 per cent of its exports of cotton within six months of the harvest. Last year it forwarded only 51 per cent in the same period. This has necessitated the carrying of from a million and a half to two million bales of cotton into the second six months. The burden fell chiefly on the original producers and the country banks which do their financing. The War Finance Corporation has authorized advances of nearly $60,000,000 on cotton, and the improvement in the situation in the South is undoubtedly due in no small degree to this assistance.

Steps have been taken by the organization to meet the financial needs of the LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY, so as to eliminate the necessity for sending immature stock to market and to save the breeding herds; and assistance is being given also to CORN GROWERS, WHEAT GROWERS, AND MANY OTHER BRANCHES OF OUR AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRY. There is still much to be done but what has already been accomplished indicates clearly that we are on the right road.

The restoration in a marked degree of confidence in business circles in the South as a result of the improvement in the cotton situation has been felt in other parts of the country. The purchasing power of the cotton planters having been greatly increased, HE HAS GONE INTO NORTHERN AND WESTERN MARKETS FOR PRODUCTS THAT HE NEEDS to carry on his business and to support the labor that works his plantations.

Somewhat similar results may be expected in other regions and with other lines of agricultural commodities, because the loans made by the War Finance Corporation will help to stabilize the market and thus to engender the confidence necessary for a more equal distribution of stocks among producers, jobbers, wholesalers, and retailers on the basis of the probable needs of consumers. NO OTHER SINGLE THING WOULD DO MORE THAN SUCH A DISTRIBUTION TO RESTORE BUSINESS IN A SOUND AND CONSERVATIVE MANNER.

The Corporation has no authority under the law to make direct loans to individual farmers. Along with other methods, it is seeking to reach the farmer or stockman through his local financing institution—the institution with which he is accustomed to do business and which is in close touch with conditions in his community. By advances to such institutions, not only will the pressure for forced liquidation be relieved but the BANKS WILL BE PUT IN BETTER POSITION TO TAKE CARE OF THE CURRENT NEEDS OF THE FARMERS to the extent that their individual credit may warrant.

Any bank desiring to secure an advance from the War Finance Corporation should make application through the Agricultural Loan Agency of the Corporation that has been established in its territory. The address of the Agency may be obtained from the nearest Federal Reserve Bank or from the offices of the War Finance Corporation at Washington. The Agricultural Loan Agencies are in charge of committees of bankers, business men, and others, and each agency has headquarters in the place that ordinarily serves as the financial center of the surrounding territory.

Upon receipt of an application from a bank or other financial institution, the committee examines the collateral offered as security and submits a recommendation to the Corporation at Washington. If the application is approved, the War Finance Corporation arranges to MAKE THE ADVANCE PROMPTLY through the nearest Federal Reserve Bank against the securities specified in the application. Loans may be made for not more than one year, and the Board of Directors may, in its discretion, renew them for additional periods not exceeding two years.

The Agricultural Credits Act, under which the War Finance Corporation is now making advances in the manner indicated above, as an emergency measure designed to meet the abnormal conditions that grew out of the war. Its object is to make possible the orderly marketing of agricultural products. A time limit is set, July 1, 1922, after which no further advances can be made.

The total amount of advances outstanding at any one time is limited to $1,000,000,000. The Act authorized the War Finance Corporation to make advances for any purpose connected with the GROWING, HARVESTING, PREPARATION FOR MARKET, OR MARKETING OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS, OR THE BREEDING, RAISING, FATTENING AND MARKETING OF LIVESTOCK. The law provides that a bank obtaining an advance from the Corporation for loans for agricultural purposes cannot charge upon such loans a rate of interest more than 2 per cent in excess of the rate charged by the Corporation.

The ultimate objective of the work of the War Finance Corporation is to hasten the return of a normal flow of business. If the producers can be enabled to handle their products for marketing in an orderly way, they can go ahead with their regular business in a normal manner, make their plans, purchase their supplies and equipment and start a business circulation that will undoubtedly reach through the manufacturing and other industries and flow back again to the producers.

Considerable progress has already been made in this direction AND I BELIEVE THE MOVEMENT IS GATHERING MOMENTUM and the steady advances are being made toward the return of more normal conditions in the production and marketing of our agricultural products.

MIRACLE PICTURE OF 1921—HARDING SENT BY WIRELESS!

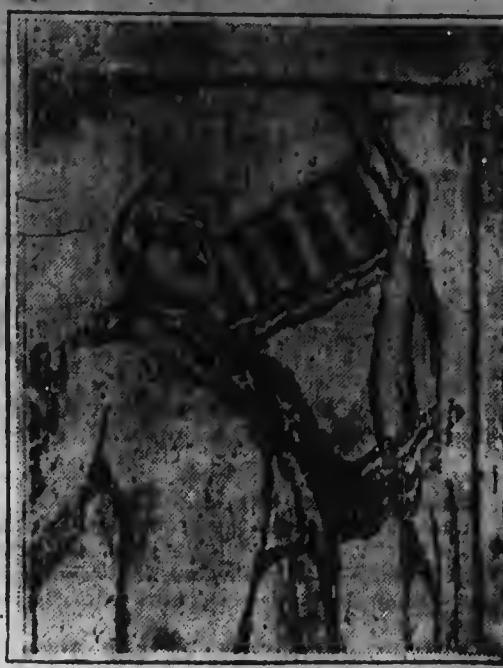

Twenty minutes after this moment during President Harding's speech at Annapolis, the accompanying picture was ready for publication in Paris, over 3,000 miles away!

It is not a perfect picture, but IT IS THE FIRST SENT BY WIRELESS and after the first has been sent, as an experiment, there is nothing left to do but to perfect the process.

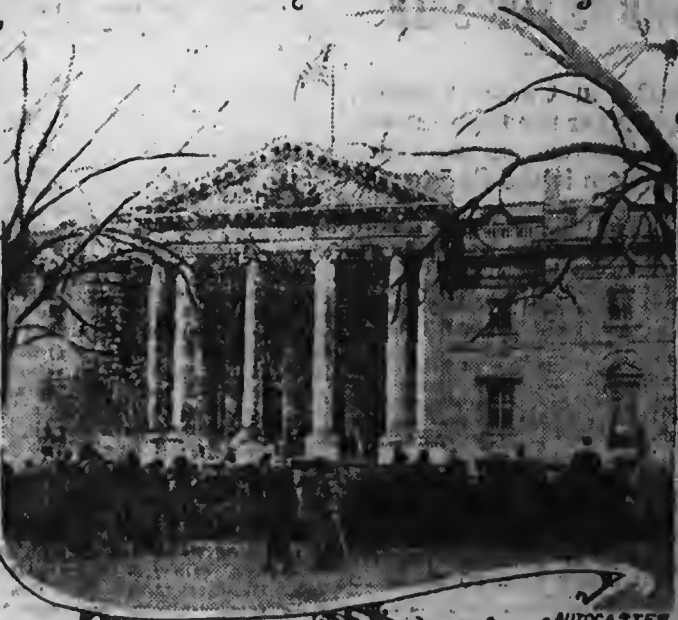

Incidentally, this is the first time that the picture here shown has been printed in an American newspaper. Popular Science Monthly obtained it from Paris, and this newspaper prints it herewith simultaneously with that magazine, by special arrangement.

The pioneer in photography by wireless is M. Edouard Belin, a Frenchman, and it was his radio apparatus that sent the accompanying picture from Annapolis, Maryland, to Paris, France, a few weeks ago. He has been experimenting for years with machines for sending photographs by telegraph, and he has sent numbers of them over the wires and by cable. Finally, this year, he invented an apparatus to send them by wireless. He brought his machine to America, and when he learned that President Harding was to make a speech to the naval cadets at Annapolis, he connected it with the big wireless station there.

The result was that a paper in Paris had a photograph of the President speaking BEFORE he had concluded his address 3,000 miles away.

"WILL THEY DO IT! DARE THEY DO IT!"

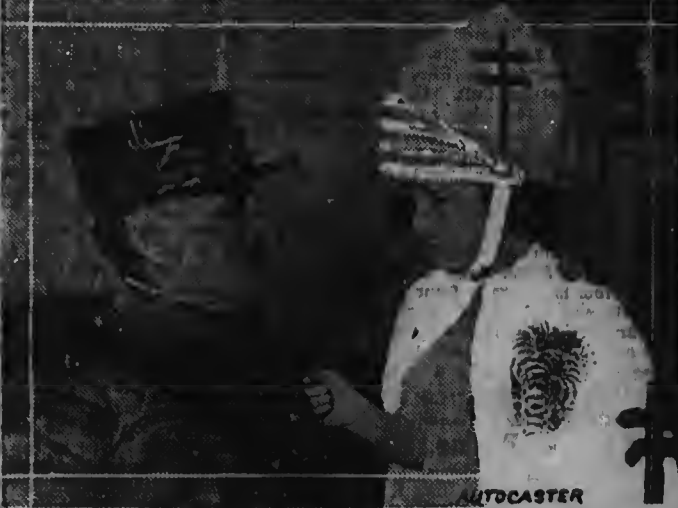

Memorial Continental Hall, Washington, where the Armament Conference is being held. Will this be a new "Liberty Hall" for all the peoples of the earth—liberty in universal world peace?

HOW'S THIS FOR HAIR LIFTING?

Stepping off a limited passenger train going 60 miles an hour sounds like suicide, but railroad scientists are experimenting so that people can be transferred from swift trains to local trains. A trolley track runs parallel with the main line. The trolley car, operated with powerful motors, speeds up as the limited approaches, and when both are under the same rate of momentum, a trap connection is let down from the platform of the trolley car to the platform of the train car and the passengers pass over. The trap is then raised, the motorman slows down to a stop at the next station and the transferred passengers alight. We print the above picture, by special arrangements, from the coming issue of Popular Science Monthly.

Good painters like to do good work. They are as much interested as the property-owner in seeing that the paint they put on looks good and wears well. The fact means much, therefore, that many painters always use Hanna's Green Seal Paint on every house painting job. They find that HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT produces the right results. It imparts a beautiful glossy finish; it wears well; it forms a durable film that covers the surface thoroughly without brush marks showing; and every gallon spreads out over a wide area.

In the long run Green Seal is the brand most economical to use on your property.

Boy Shoots Boy With Rifle Thought To Be Unloaded.
Ismael Clark, 13 year old son of John D. Clark, is laid up in bed with a bullet hole through his body as a result of the playful handling of a 22 Stephens rifle by Townly Hall, 17 years old, Tuesday of last week at the store of Greenberry Hall on Frasures creek, near McDowell.

Young Hall, who is the son of Greenberry Hall, was standing on the store porch and had been snapping the trigger of the rifle when young Clark came up.

As Clark turned and saw Clark he playfully aimed and pulled the trigger, not knowing that he had been snapping on a loaded shell. The bullet entered the center of Clark's breast and lodged in his back to the right of his spine.

Drs. Ed and Walker Stumbo attended the wounded lad and removed the bullet. Clark is reported to be mending rapidly.

Herbert Huiett and Willie Counts of Blaine were here Sunday on business. Jim Shivel and Haskel Thompson of Jett were at Dennis Sunday. On last Monday morning the stork brought twin babies to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Webb but the visit was a very sad one. One of the infants died and was buried Tuesday morning and on Tuesday night the fond mother passed to the great beyond. She died in the triumph of a living faith. She had the best treatment possible to procure but it availed nothing. It seems that she had a presentiment that she would never get well and told her friends so. She was accomplished, having at one time been one of the best teachers in the county. She was industrious, ambitious and enamored with life but kind and affectionate to all. She dearly loved her husband and children. She was laid to rest in the family burial ground where she will sleep till Christ comes the second time when who will come forth to meet him and spend eternity with him. The funeral was preached by Rev. H. B. Hewlett of Louisville. The deceased leaves a husband and four small children to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and a true and affectionate mother.

OBITUARY

(Too late for last week)

Fred Moore was born in Floyd county, Ky., March 3, 1894, departed from this life July 21, 1921, aged 27 years, 4 months and 18 days. He moved with his parents from Floyd county to Lawrence county the year 1908. They first settled at McDaniels on the right fork of Cat and remained there for 4 years, after which they moved from there to the William Colwell farm on Bear creek, near Buchanan the place of his death. He was a Corporal in Co. F, 35th Inf. in the World war and was in France where he incurred the disability that caused his untimely death. After he came home from the service he was ordered to the hospital at Somerset, Ky., where he was treated by Dr. A. W. Cain. All was done for him that doctors, companions, mother, brothers, sisters, friends and neighbors could do but could not stay the strong arm of death. He was married to Miss Carrie Layne, June, 1920 and she accompanied him to the hospital at Somerset and went in as a nurse in order to be with her husband. The writer was personally acquainted with little Fred Moore since he first moved to Lawrence county. And to know him was to love him, he was so kind and affectionate. He bore his affliction with christian patience and said he was ready to go. Thank God for the dying declaration of little Fred. It consoles the hearts of loved ones. He is now on love eternal shore where sickness and death are felt and feared no more. He has crossed the rivers and climbed the mountains and faced the storms and suffered affliction of this life for 27 years. Thank God this morning on the top of the captured battlements of God's love he can about victory at last. His remains were consigned to old mother earth at Mount Zion chapel, near the home of his mother. THE DOOR SLAMS ON HAPPINESS

Poor Blood Makes Bad Health—Then Come the "Blues."

Once the vigor of red blood becomes sapped of its strength, the door to happiness is literally slammed. Weariness of body follows and it unfailingly engenders depressed thoughts. To be reserved and cheerless becomes a habit. After a time there is an almost filmy dimness in the expression of the eyes and a pallor to the skin. Days seem dull and dark and difficult. A sense of insufferable gloom pervades the spirit.

Then it is that Gude's Pepto-Mangan is the great help. It is a red blood builder. It puts red into the blood—increases the number of corpuscles which make blood rich and red. When the blood is restored to its natural healthy state, the sensation of well-being returns. Instead of shuffling along carelessly, there is the firm and springy step, the bright lusterful eyes, the clear complexion, identified with the strength and vigor of good health.

Druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.
